About Us

Founded in 1979 as a Nourishment Network, the LSS Second Harvest Food Bank was the first program of Lutheran Social Services of Northeast Florida. We are part of the America's Second Harvest Network, the largest domestic hunger relief organization in the United States.

20% of all food produced in the U.S. goes to waste, enough to feed millions

We operate on a simple principal of reducing hunger and reducing waste. We receive food from donors throughout the Southeast and distribute it to non-profit organizations who assist those in need.

We currently serve 17 counties and over 500 member agencies.
